LEEPER IS NOT ACCUSED BY JOURNAL

An Explanation Regarding Communication from Mr. Fredrick in This Paper Last Sunday Morning

The Journal, in its last issue, contained a communication from Marcus Frederick, a well known attorney of this city, referring to Chief Leeper. The communication contained statements which The Journal does not believe to be true and has no knowledge whatever. The communication was handed in for publication by Mr. Fredrick late in the evening, when the manager of The Journal was not in and was published without the knowledge or consent of him or any of his associates, and they were, on reading the article the next morning, fully as much surprised at the appearance thereof as any of the readers of this paper. The Journal has always stood for fairness in political contests and it will always adhere to that principle while under its present management at least, and the statement above contained is made freely and voluntarily and published in as conspicuous a place as was the original communication of Mr. Fredrick, as a mere matter of fairness to Mr. Leeper.

The Journal does not wish to be understood as favoring the reappointment of Chief of Police Leeper. From the first it has opposed his reappointment and will continue to do so. But its opposition is based solely on the right accorded all citizens to criticise the official acts of a public servant.

INDICTED ON CHARGE OF MURDER

SENATOBA, Miss., May 1—Thirteen alleged slayers of Sheriff Pake who was shot to death in the county jail here while defending a prisoner from a mob, were indicted on a charge of murder today.

CLOSING DAY OF A HARD FOUGHT CAMPAIGN

Citizens of Reno Much Interested in the Outcome of the Election Which Is to be Held Today

For the first time in the history of the new city of Reno the voters today will have an opportunity to choose from among a number of candidates the ones whom they desire to conduct the government of the city for the next two years at least. The city campaign has been materially free from partisanship so far as this paper has been concerned, the main aim of The Journal being to give every candidate an opportunity to make his campaign on personal merit. The next issue of this paper will convey the tidings of defeat or victory to the friends of those aspiring for public honor

As a last word before the citizens of Reno go to the polls this morning The Journal would ask: Study well the merits of the men who aspire to govern Reno, know first that they are pledged to everything tending to make Reno better, larger, more beautiful and more prosperous than it is at present.

Of the three ordinances submitted The Journal honestly believes that by the carrying of ordinance No 1 a reform will be inaugurated that will redound not only to the credit of Reno, but to the entire state. A careful study of ordinances Nos. 2 and 3 has not revealed any phase that tends to carrying out what the people of Reno desire—restriction without prohibition.

One noticeable feature of the campaign just ending has been the manly, clean canvass made of D. W. O'Connor, candidate for Mayor. His fearless, open and fair stand regarding his policy in themselves have doubtless won for him many votes If elected he will go into office, full of knowledge of the city's needs, gained by a residence and active participation in Washoe county's affairs covering a period of nearly half a century. In all that time no man has yet stepped forward to question his integrity or lack of enterprise. He stands for progress and improvement and greater Reno

Mr O'Connor's opponent, George F. Turrittin, has been at the head of the city government for the past two years He closes his canvass confident of victory. He has made his campaign squarely upon his record and is willing to abide with the decision of the people as to whether he has performed his duties well. His record is his platform

In this connection a correction should be made of an impression that has gained credence through a misunderstanding of the charter We refer to the rumor that in the event of the nomination by the Mayor of Mr. Leeper to be chief of police against the wish of a majority of the council he could not be removed, but would hold the position indefinitely at the will of the Mayor. Article III, section 5, reads as follows:

"The Mayor must nominate such appointments to the council at the first subsequent meeting and in case the person so nominated is not confirmed by a majority vote the Mayor shall nominate another, and so on until the place is filled"

For police judge C. E. Richardson, the incumbent, has made an earnest campaign. Judge Richardson has taken much interest in the affairs of Reno and as his record proves, has made a showing of which he can well feel proud.

C. E. Christie, the candidate for clerk, has proven himself a vote getter as well as friend winner. The young man is in every way qualified to perform the duties of this office and if elected will render good service to the city. He is opposed by O. H. Mack, the attorney. Mr. Mack also has been at work and when the votes are counted this evening it will be found that he has not lacked supporters. D. H. Morton also aspires to be re-elected

For city attorney three candidates are in the field—R. C. Stoddard, H. W. Huskey and E. L. Williams, the later the present city attorney. The evening paper has seen fit to make a selection in this fight, claiming that Mr. Huskey is the best fitted for this office. This The Journal does not believe, for Mr. Stoddard, in its opinion, is fully as well qualified as Mr. Huskey to perform the duties of this office. Mr. Williams, in the opinion of The Journal, has forfeited his claim to the non-partisan support by coming before the people as the Republican candidate in a campaign where politics was not supposed to be a factor. But despite this nothing can be said against Mr. Williams' honesty, integrity or ability.

The fight for the council is replete with interest. In the first ward Fred Grob and R. Kinney are the candidates E. L. Drappo and L Avanzino are seeking the same office in the second ward. In the third ward Dr. F. P. Quinn, the well known dentist, and Gus Koppe are seeking the office. Mr. Koppe is the present councilman from the third In the fourth ward three well known citizens are running for the office. They are W. J. Luke, the incumbent, John Newmarker, A. M. Beebe and Frank Bell. In the fifth ward N E. Wilson seeks re-election. He is opposed by Peter Burke.

The socialists have also entered the campaign and are working earnestly for their candidates. The socialist ticket is as follows:

For Mayor, James Crawford; for city clerk, E. P. McKinnon; for police judge, C. St. George; for councilmen, first ward, J. A. White; second ward, James Cuyler, third ward, A. A. Hibbard; fourth ward, J. B. Hendrick, fifth ward, Dr M. Fritchard.

Revolutionary Parades in Poland Lead to Encounter in Which Two Persons at Least Were Killed

ST. PETERSBURG, May 2—Aside from the expected May day disorders in Poland, where the revolutionary parades led to sanguinary encounters between the police and the troops at Warsaw, Lodz and other industrial centers, perfect order prevailed in Russia today. The death of two persons wounded in a collision with the police on Saturday is reported from Lodz.

PARIS, May 1—King Edward started on an automobile tour to Versailles today. Another auto containing French and British officials followed him.

MOWED DOWN IN THE PRIME OF LIFE

Attack of Pneumonia Results in the Sad End of Dr. F. M. Baldwin, Who Dies in the Arms of His Wife

Dr. Frank M. Baldwin, one of the best known and most highly respected physicians and citizens of Reno, passed away last evening at 5:30 o'clock.

His devoted wife hastened from San Francisco, arriving here Sunday night, and the patient sufferer died in her arms.

He had been complaining for several days of not feeling very well, but continued his usual faithful attention to his duties until Thursday night, when he was taken by loving friends to the Golden Hotel, where medical attention could be promptly given him. Dr. Morrison quickly responded and as a physician and a friend, assisted by Drs. Hood Walker and Gregory, did all that was possible, but from that hour the patient steadily and rapidly sank, only rallying once for a brief time.

The body is in the care of Perkins, Oliver and Gulling, awaiting the moment when the prostrated wife can be consulted regarding future arrangements.

His parents, Mr and Mrs. R. G. Baldwin, reside at 820 Bush street, San Francisco and were expected here last night, but they lost the train and will arrive this morning.

In all probability the burial will be in Oakland on Thursday, the body being escorted to the train in this city by the three lodges of which he was an honored member, the Elks, Eagles and Knights of the Royal Arch.

Few men in this city numbered so many sincere friends as did Dr. Baldwin, and the news of his sudden death has come as a salamity to many people of Reno and other cities His sorrowing wife and parents have many earnest sympathizers.

The following statement is authorized by Dr. Samuels of Winnemucca, the president of the State Board of Examiners:

"We appreciated Dr. Baldwin both as a physician and as a gentleman, and wish to express our sincere regret at his demise."

Dr. Baldwin was born in San Francisco in 1873, being only 32 years of age. He graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons of San Francisco in 1898, working his entire way through the medical and dental course. He then served as physician and dentist on the steamers of the Occidental and Oriental steamship company running between San Francisco and the Orient for three years.

A little over a year ago he came to Reno, since which time he had established an extensive and lucrative practice and endeared himself to many friends by his genial personality and his faithfulness to duty under all circumstances. He was a hard worker and from this as much as anything was he made susceptible to the dread disease which so quickly closed a brief but brilliant career.

NEW YORK, May 1.—"This case is one of deliberate murder or suicide. There can be no manslaughter about it. There should be no compromise verdict. She is either guilty of murder in the first degree or not at all."

With these words Abraham Levy, the counsel for Nan Patterson, today brought to a close his five-hour argument. Miss Patterson faced the jury unflinchingly.

Japanese Landed Here

THE ELECTION TODAY

THE issues of the campaign in the city election which takes place today seem to be unanimous for improvement all along the line, consequently it will be a contest based on the personality of the various candidates rather than any set of principles

With respect to the three referendum ordinances, the intent of each in its bearing upon the question of gambling in the City of Reno has been pretty well thrashed out through The Journal for Ordinance No 1 and by the Citizens' League at a mass meeting and by printed addresses on behalf of Ordinances No 2 and 3 In advocating the adoption of Ordinance No 1, The Journal has had the opposition of every newspaper, the gambling fraternity and the Citizens' League It has been charged that the Ordinance was drawn with the intention of creating a monopoly of the business for two houses in the city, notwithstanding the fact that the games have tripled in number since the downstairs law was passed and that there is nothing in the ordinance to prevent anyone from running upstairs if he choose to pay a smaller license than that exacted of those who wish to run downstairs The question of the choice between the two ordinances (No 1 and No 3) resolves itself into a difference of opinion as to which will bring to the city the greatest amount of revenue and at the same time restrict and regulate gambling There is a wide difference in the amount of the license No 1 proposes a license of $75 per quarter, while No 3 asks each game to contribute $450 per quarter, in addition to the $225 per quarter now exacted by the state and county In other words No 1 would compel each game to pay license to the amount of $300 per quarter and No 3 demands $675 for a like period

In the opionion of The Journal as a revenue producer No 3 would be a failure, for the reason that the license is prohibitive No 1 provides in addition to a lower license that a police officer shall be stationed at the entrance to a room where gambling is carried on at the expense of the proprietor of the game The voter can take his choice, vote without fear or favor, but alone for the good of society and the benefit of the city treasury

FIGHTING RAILROAD RATES.

THE orange shippers of Southern California says the Grass Valley Union, have again opened their fight for a reduction of the railroad rates on oranges shipped to points east of the Mississippi It is but a new move in an old fight that promises to be endless unless the federal government takes action upon the enactment of legislation which will force the establishment of a fair equable and indiscriminating rate for these shippers It is obvious that these railroad companies do not intend to act fairly with the orange shippers

After a lengthy investigation the interstate commerce commission some weeks ago declared that the rates were excessive unjust and in violation of the interstate commerce act With this result of their investigation the commission ordered the readjusment of the rate But the managers of the various railroad companies laughed at the order and openly stated they would ignore it The interstate commerce commission is vested with no power to enforce its decisions, and the shippers were in the same same position as before the commission had commenced its investigation The latter had proved itself just what it is a useless and cumbersome department of the government the only use to which it is put being to delay by its needless and resultless investigations all attempts to regulate common carriers and illegal combinations

The method which the orange shippers are forced to adopt in an effort to get fair treatment are too roundabout present too many opportunities for a delay on technichalities and promise only a small and expensive litigation

Relief not only to the orange growers but to all shippers, will only come when the government enacts a fair and equable law governing the rates and comparative rights of shippers and those in control of common carrier systems Then the parties can enter court under a definite knowledge of what is legal and just and knowing the court has both the right to decide and the power to enforce its decision

IT is now proposed to have an automobile mountain climbing contest on Pikes Peak The machines will have to climb a typical Rocky mountain road rather worse than better than the average, and they will find their powers taxed In many places the road skirts precipices and the men running the machines will have some perilous experiences If none of them goes head over heels down the mountain they may all feel they were born under a lucky star Those machines are worse than a bucking horse when they become unruly A horse will seek to save himself from plunging over a cliff, but an automobile, once started on a tear rather seems to prefer such leaps through the air Nor does it make any difference with it whether the jump be ten feet or one thousand

CHARLES M SCHWAB, who has been in St Petersburg conferring with the admiralty officials with respect to the building of a new navy seems to have made a great impression on those people They paid him a compliment in seeking his advice and seem disposed to compliment him further by adopting many of his suggestions Schwab can tell them more about steel than all the steel men of Russia know and if they listen to him they will secure good material in the new vessels Incidentally the steel man has no doubt laid the foundations for a fat contract, and we may look for the placing of an order through him for a number of new vessels His works can supply the steel and others can construct the ships

COMMENT AND EXCREPTS

Pittsburg believes in expansion and proposes to annex Alleghaney City

Japan now has one of the largest steamship companies in the world, with ships running between Japan and the western world by way of the Suez Canal.

Wisconsin, says the Boston Transcript, has very promptly refused to impose a tax on bachelors It would be gross injustice to tax men on their misfortunes.

It is said that the American people spent as much money last year on gems and jewelry as on pianos and other musical instruments, and more than three times as much as was paid out for sewing machines

Having found that many children were guilty of petty thefts in order to get money to go to the theater, Blackpool Lancashire, is thinking of passing an ordinance forbidding children under twelve to attend theaters

A Physician in Illinois has been sued for $2,500 damages because it is alleged he went from a small pox patient without changing his clothes or disinfecting, to treat the wife of the plaintiff, who was ill with pneumonia, and as a result she contracted smallpox, as well as her five children

Evidence that 'China is waking up" are found by some in the increased number of tracts that are accepted from the missionaries, says the Philadelphia Record Others find the evidence in the proposition which finds favor with the government to increase the number of guns for land and naval service

PEOPLE who delight in repeating choice innuendoes reflecting upon the character of their neighbors frequently justify themselves with the old saw "Where there is much smoke there must be some fire" Do you know, bretheren, that the author of that proverb was a clown who tried to light his pipe at a manure pile one cold morning

CLAUSE THREE, ORDINANCE ONE

Attorney Cooke Gives His Opinion on Section Relating to Uniformed Officers

In their addresses before the mass meeting at McKissick's opera house Saturday evening, Judge Curler and Attorney Summerfield singled out the police clause in The Journal's ordinance as their particular point of attack, claiming that it was an attempt to usurp the powers of the chief of police and confer unheard of privileges upon the proprietors of a couple of gambling houses. As this was far from being the intention of the framers of the clause, and being without legal knowledge to combat the charge, Attorney H. R. Cooke, one of the framers of the charter, was interviewed with reference to the possible correctness of these startling statements by men supposedly schooled in the law In fairness to Mr. Cooke it may be said that he is inclined to oppose The Journal ordinance as a whole and favor ordinances 2 and 3 Mr Cooke said.

"Yes, I was present at the mass meeting Saturday evening, and to say the least, was surprised at the novelty of the arguments advanced against The Journal ordinance

"The two principal speakers were particularly severe when speaking of section three of The Journal ordinance, which provides that a policeman or officer must be kept in the gambling house at the expense of the proprietor They claimed this was inserted so as to enable the proprietor to have a handy man, a uniformed bouncer, and whom the proprietor could control and cause to arrest any person who was obnoxious, regardless of whether such person was legally subject to arrest or not, and that such officer should be named by the proprietor and controlled by him in all official business and have the powers of making arrests, etc., and that such officer would not be accountable to anyone except the proprietor

"In the light of the charter such argument is, in my opinion, utterly unfounded and exhibits a woeful lack of knowledge by the speakers on a subject which the audience had a right to expect the speakers had informed themselves on before assuming to invite the people to hear them discuss it

"No one will deny that the making of a policeman or police officer in a city is an exercise of corporate power, but all corporate power, except as to initiative and referendum, is absolutely vested in the Mayor and Council, and as both of the speakers referred to are lawyers they will surely not contend that when the legislature delegates power of a city council, such council can by ordinance divest itself of such power by delegating it to a private individual, and no more can an ordinance do so, even though voted on directly by the people as in this case In other words the charter cannot be violated or repealed by mere ordinances

"Then again, it was argued by both the speakers that such officer would be under the control of the gambling house, which paid his salary. A sufficient answer to this is that the charter provides that the fees salaries and all compensation of officers and all other persons shall be regulated by ordinances and resolutions and all claims for the same acted upon by the council Hence the gambling house could not directly employ nor even pay such officer.

"The charter provides that the Mayor may suspend any appointive officer and he may appoint temporary policemen But with that exception, to the chief of police is given the exclusive power to appoint and control all the police force and it is idle to talk about an officer being created except as provided by law, and even if the ordinance had went so far as to provide that such officer should be named, uniformed, paid and controlled exclusively by the gambling house proprietor, such provision would be utterly void, as it would conflict with the charter because the chief of police has the appointing power, as well as command and control An officer is either an officer or he is not If he is one, he must be appointed first, then confirmed by the council, then he must give his bond and then take the oath of office Until he does all of these things he is not an officer, but a mere private person and with no more power If he does do all these things, how can it be argued he is the appointee of a gambling house or any private person?

"If it be argued that the chief will appoint and the council confirm any person selected or named by a gambling house if The Journal ordinance passes the answer is that that is no more than can be done now?

"If The Journal ordinance went into effect and no other legal objections could successfully be raised to the operation of section three (a question on which I express no opinion) then, before the gambling house could begin business the officer regularly appointed by the chief, confirmed by the council with bond given and official oath of office taken would have to be stationed in the place The house would and could have absolutely no control over him as the charter says such control is in the chief, the house could not suspend him nor direct him nor discharge him for the same reason, the house could not even pay him directly, as the charter says his pay must come from the city and all the house could do would be to deposit cost of uniform and the salary of such officer with the city authorities

"Neither can it be argued that if the ordinance passed the gambling houses could apply to the constable or sheriff to appoint them a deputy from one of their rounders, because the constable or sheriff would have absolutely no power to act under a city ordinance and the office provided for is created by ordinance and can be filled only in the manner provided for in the charter and outlined above."

E. L. Williams, having been elected a delegate to the head camp session of the Woodmen of the World, from the twenty-third district, comprising Nevada and a portion of California, arrived in Los Angeles April 17th, and immediately began his work on the committee of claims and pending appeals, the most important committee which had been appointed. As he was the only delegate elected from the twenty-third district, his constant attendance was required. He devoted eleven days to the work of the session and was not able to reach here before Saturday night.

While there he took a prominent part in the debate on all important questions and was recognized as one of the strongest debaters in the body of delegates He was asked to second the motion of I I Boak for head consul and did so with credit to his district He also seconded the nomination of Sunderland of Fresno for head advisor and of Tom Robinson of California for head manager, all of whom were elected. He received many coompliments from the head officers and delegates for the positions which he took in debating the matters affecting the interests of Woodcraft in his district and of the order generally.

At the banquet tendered by Pasadena Woodmen to over 500 Woodmen of the World and Women of Woodcraft, Mr Williams' work in the head camp session was given especial mention by the toastmaster, a compliment given to no other delegate.

REBEKAHS GIVE MAY DAY DANCE

The Leading Feature of the Evening Was a May Pole Dance, Which Had Been Provided for the Children

The people of Sparks properly observed May day by attending a dance given in the evening under the auspices of the Rebekahs, a branch lodge of the I O O F No 9 The dancing took place in Robison's hall and those who had charge of the affair took special pains to see that the floor was in proper shape for the dancers and the hall was suitably decorated for the occasion

The leading feature of the evening was a May pole dance which the ladies had arranged especially for the amusement of the young folks Miss Lottie Younghams, who was selected to represent the queen of the May, acted out her part in a creditable manner As soon as the hands of the clock pointed to 9 the children gathered around the May queen and the most successful dance of the evening was begun The younger element held sway until their taste for amusement was gratified Then the floor was turned over to the older people Keil's orchestra of Reno was on hand and dispensed a quality of music that has never been excelled in this state There was a large number of dances on the program, but the happy dancers were not satisfied, so nearly every dance was encored The lovers of the light fantastic were not willing to admit they were weary until the early hours of the morning

Notwithstanding the fact that the weather was disagreeable a large crowd was present and aided in making the affair a success The proceeds of the dance will be devoted to lodge purposes

BOTH SIDES TO QUESTION RAISED BY JUDGE CURLER

GAMBLING THE ISSUE; CHALLENGE ACCEPTED

In Response to The Journal's Counter Challenge to Judge Curler, the Judge Selects Romanzo Adams to Present Arguments to Show Why Proposed Ordinance No. 1 Should be Defeated

Why Vote Against Ordinance No. 1?

Ordinance No. 1 was introduced by the Manager of The Journal. It has a revenue feature and a regulative feature. Ordinances Numbers 2 and 3 were introduced by Judge Curler, representing the Citizens' League. The single purpose of No. 2 is regulative. No. 3 is primarily, a revenue pure and simple, although it may incidentally have some regulative effect. I will, therefore, state briefly the provisions and probable effects of these various ordinances from both revenue and regulative standpoints, and then leave it to the readers of the Journal to decide as to the merits or demerits of No. 1.

Omitting the first quarter from consideration and reducing all to a monthly basis, No. 1 provides for a license of $25 a month for up-stairs games and $66.66 a month for down-stairs games. This discrimination is intended to be prohibitive to down-stairs games. The Journal declares in Sunday's editorial that for the regulation and restriction of gambling no better method has been found than that of forcing the whole fraternity up-stairs. In the same editorial it is pointed out that under the law putting gambling upstairs all but two gambling resorts "were put out of business for nearly two years." This is the regulative feature of No. 1, according to The Journal's contention.

I grant the argument so far as the mere fact of restricting the gambling business to two houses—the Oberon and the Palace is concerned. Note well the reason. The license rate of No. 1, taken by itself, is not high enough to drive a single game out of business. But the discrimination against the small games down-stairs, where the profits are comparatively small, and in favor of the two big up-stairs houses where profits are large, would make it easy for the two big houses to drive their small handicapped competitors out of business. Note, too, that unless the down-stairs games should be stopped that the regulative features of No. 1 would be a failure.

Now let us consider the effect of this upon the city revenue. According to statistics published in The Journal there are now 69 games running in Reno. As each game pays $10, all pay $690 a month. If Ordinance No. 1 should pass reducing the houses to two with the 21 games games run by them when they were "the whole thing" the revenue would be reduced from the present insignificant $690 to $525 a month. No. 1, in order to make any showing for regulation and restriction, must confess itself a failure for revenue.

Consider No. 3 as a revenue producer. The license rate of $150 a month would tend to reduce the number of games, but although the rate is much higher than No. 1 proposes, it is not probable that it would cause a much greater reduction of games than No. 1. For it is perfectly fair as between the various owners, and gamblers, as well as other men, want an equal chance and not unfair discrimination. If Ordinance No. 2, the separation ordinance, also carries, this would tend to restrict the games somewhat further. Considering all the conditions, the rentals, the profits of gambling, the number of confirmed gamblers and the number of ignorant strangers who are worked by the houses, it seems probable if both Ordinances Nos. 2 and 3 are passed, that about fifteen games will be able to run and make considerable profit to the owners. If you question the accuracy of this estimate, just vote for the two measures and thus test my prediction.

Taking this as a basis, fifteen games at $150 each would yield a city revenue of $2,250 monthly or $1,560 more than the present revenue and $1,725 more than the probable revenue under No. 1.

Is it necessary to argue in favor of an increased revenue? When one stops to think of the vast expense to the city caused by the crimes and misdemeanors committed by the people who follow up gambling, he is confronted by the startling proposition that the taxpayers of Reno are actually taxing themselves to support gambling—or to pay for the consequences of it, which amounts to the same thing. To require gambling to pay a larger revenue to the city is merely to apply the old adage, "Let him who dances pay the fiddler." At best, it will pay far less than it costs the community.

Turn now to the regulative and restrictive features.

The Journal's principal method of regulation and restriction is merely to reduce the number of games and centralize them up-stairs. If a reduction of the number of games and centralization are worth anything, Ordinances Nos. 2 and 3 would be slightly better for they offer a little greater reduction in the number—say the difference between 21 and 15. I contend, however, that such restriction has proven to be of very little value. To lessen the number of games is not necessarily to lessen gambling. To put it up-stairs is conducive to secrecy. To concentrate the business is to make it possible for the gambling houses to offer greater attractions in the way of music, vaudeville and palatial quarters, and the big houses are using such attractions. Will The Journal point out just how the public has been the gainer in the past two or three years as compared with the preceding two years? If The Journal should see fit to consider the recent situation, I ask it to consider the repeal of the midnight opening and the recent rapid influx of strangers as the chief cause of the gambling boom.

Ordinance No. 2, however, which is designed to prevent the disposal of intoxicants in gambling houses is a regulative feature of undoubted value. Any one can see that it is not a square deal when the house plies its victim with liquor in order to get him to gamble away his money. The Journal declares that this ordinance would prohibit gambling altogether. Does The Journal think that the success of the house is absolutely dependent on its first making its victim drunk?

And finally, the last provision has but to be stated to be damned. The City charter makes it the duty of Mayor and council to provide for policemen and to pay them out of city funds. Ordinance No. 1 makes it the duty of proprietor of gambling houses to provide for and pay uniformed officers. Now this would be of no public value in any way, but of great advantage to the proprietor has been pointed out in a pamphlet issued by the Citizens' League, and is omitted here for lack of space. Only remember this, that the main effect of this clause would be to make an officer of the law out of the regular "bouncer."

ROMANZO ADAMS.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 1; WHY IT SHOULD PASS

The Journal's Position on a Measure Which It Honestly Believes Is the Best of the Three Submitted to the People of Reno to be Acted Upon at the Election to be Held Today

The Journal in Sunday's issue, editorially took up and discussed the objections made to ordinance No. 1 by the Citizens' League through the medium of a circular letter, believing that no response would be received to an offer of these columns to Judge Curler. However, as Judge Curler has delegated to Professor Adams the privilege intended for him, The Journal will reply briefly to those points made by him against the statements in the editorial of Sunday.

The statement is made that the fixing of the license for downstairs gambling at $66.66 per month is intended to be prohibitive. Not so. The reasons for making the license higher for downstairs gambling was as much to prevent the upstairs games from coming back down as to force those now down to go up. We reiterate that under a lower license than that contemplated by the present ordinance satisfactorily restricted gambling as far as the number of places is concerned. Now it comes to a question of whether it is desirable to drive all the games upstairs or force the upstairs men down. It can be stated without fear of contradiction that should the license be made the same for both locations there is no question but that all will be downstairs in less than sixty days. With the advantage that the big houses are now said to possess why should they lose by coming down?

Not later than Saturday we were informed that a building now in course of construction next to the postoffice has been leased as a gambling house. If the proprietors believe they can afford to pay the difference in license it will be but one story in height, but the owner stands ready to build another story if his renters demand it.

We fail to see wherein the smaller gamblers will be put out of business under The Journal ordinance if it is possible for them to exist under the Citizens' League ordinance. In making this claim Professor Adams practically admits that ordinance No. 3 is prohibitive in its effect.

Mr. Adams says that if only the twenty-one games conducted by the upstairs gamblers continued to run the result would be a revenue under the increase proposed of $165 per month less than that now received by the city from the sixty-nine games now in operation. This is hardly a fair presentation of the case from the fact that there is included in the number of games above mentioned, thirty-five slot machines, which will of course remain on the lower floors, leaving an actual increase of thirteen licensed games to be treated under this discussion. Under the ordinance as proposed by The Journal if all these games continued to run they would turn into the city treasury as follows: Upstairs, twenty-one games, $525; downstairs, thirteen games, $866.68; total, $1391.68 per month. Professor Adams contends that the downstairs games would be shut out under the ordinance; we reply that under ordinance No. 3 these same thirteen games would be forced to pay $1950 per month as against $866.66 under The Journal ordinance. If The Journal ordinance is prohibitive as against the so-called smaller games, what shall we say as to the league ordinance?

It was clearly demonstrated that the normal demand for opportunity to gamble was found to be supplied by twenty-one games up to March 7th, or until the removal of the restriction on downstairs games. Does it not follow that the extra thirteen games now in operation reach a new clientele by reason of their more public location?

If this is a fact can it not be said that gambling is more general in Reno today because more opportunities are afforded than was the case the previous two years. With gambling it is the same as any other business—location is everything. The man with the best location will, all else being equal, get the heaviest play. If the Palace and Oberon now enjoy the advantage in location they are certainly business men enough to see that they will not lose it by coming downstairs. As before stated editorially, notwithstanding the low city license only twenty-one games were supported by patrons of the game under the old law. Yet Mr. Adams makes the prediction that under ordinance No. 3 fifteen games will manage to eke out an existence.

Judged by the experience of Reno when the city, county and state collected a total of $1785 per month from the games, it is difficult to understand by what process of reasoning Mr. Adams places the number which could survive at fifteen under an aggregate license of $3375 per month, even with the advantage of no discrimination as between upstairs and downstairs games.

With respect to ordinance No. 2 The Journal has never said that it would prohibit gambling altogether. Such a statement would be palpably absurd. But taken in conjunction with ordinance No. 3 it certainly would. In making this admission it does not necessarily follow that a man must be plied with liquor in order to induce him to play. The gambling instinct or habit is often stronger in a man than the liquor habit. While there is no question that one is a natural concomitant of the other in the profits of a house where both are provided, either can exist without the other. Even at the risk of being charged with defending a gambling resort, The Journal will state that with all the enticements of music and glittering adornment, we have yet to learn of a case wherein a man was plied with liquor, drugged or had his money taken away from him in a "skin game" in either the Palace or the Oberon.

With reference to the police section of ordinance No. 1 so briefly but scathingly denounced by Mr. Adams, we will say that before we were advised of the intention of the opposition to accept the Journal's offer of space, an interview had been secured with Attorney Cooke on this phase of the discussion. It will be found in another column. As we believe all parties to the discussion sincerely desire enlightenment on the subject, we trust that in publishing Mr. Cooke's opinion we will not be accused of violating the terms of the agreement which limited the discussion to 1000 words on either side.

READY FOR THE GRAND BALL TOMORROW NIGHT

Tomorrow night the members of the C. A. G. S. fraternity will give a grand ball at the Wheelmen's new hall. For the past few weeks the young men have been planning for this event and are sparing neither trouble nor expense in their efforts to make it the success of the year. The best music obtainable will be furnished, the floor is being placed in first class condition and the members of every committee have instructions to join in seeing to it that all guests will have a good time. The C. A. G. S. is one of the most popular fraternities in Reno, the members long since having established a reputation for the royal manner in which they entertain and tomorrow's party, it can be safely said, will be a success.

Tickets are now on sale. Admission will be $1 for gentlemen, while ladies will be admitted free.

Mr. Casey is a well town teamster who resides on the Virginia road. His lost mule was one of a valuable team and he advertised a reward of $50 for the recovery of the animal. He placed the advertisement in The Journal and it was through it that the identity of the animal was learned at Pyramid lake.

Proposed Ordinance No. 2.

To the Honorable, the City Council of the City of Reno:

We, the undersigned qualified electors of the City of Reno, equal in number to fifteen per cent of the votes cast at the last general City election, intending to avail ourselves of the benefits and privileges of Sections 11, 13, 14, 15, and 16, of Article 12, of an Act of the Legislature of the State of Nevada, entitled "An Act to amend the title of, and to amend an Act entitled 'An Act to incorporate the Town of Reno, and to establish a City government therefor, aproved March 16, 1903,' approved March 13, 1905," do hereby petition and pray that there be submitted to a vote of the electors of the said City of Reno at the next general city election, an Ordinance which we do hereby propose in the words as follows:

An Ordinance to Regulate Gaming and Prohibit the Same From Being Carried on in or Adjoining Rooms Where Saloons or Places Where Intoxicating Liquors Are Sold or In Any Manner Disposed or Are Conducted, and Other Matters Relating Thereto.

The City Council of the City of Reno do ordain:

Section 1. That it shall be unlawful for any person firm or corporation, their agents, servants or employes, to keep, have, sell, barter, give away or in any manner dispose of, or permit to be had, sold bartered, given away or in any manner disposed of, any spiritous, vinous, malt or intoxicating liquors in any room or place of business where any game of faro, monte, roulette, lansquenet, rouge-et-noir, rondo, keno, fantan, twenty-one, red-white-and-blue, red-and-black or diana, klondike, craps, percentage or stud-poker, or any banking or percentage game played with cards, dice, or any other device, whether the same be played for money, checks, credit or any other valuable thing, or representative of value, or where pools are sold on horse races, whether said race is conducted in the State of Nevada, or elsewhere, is dealt, played, carried on, opened or caused to be opened, conducted or caused to be conducted.

Section 2. It shall be unlawful for any of the games or business mentioned in section 1 of this ordinance to be dealt, played, carried on, opened or caused to be opened, or conducted, in any building in the city of Reno wherein any saloon or other place of business is conducted where any spiritous, vinous, malt or intoxicating liquors are sold, offered for sale, given away or in any manner disposed of, or adjoining any building in which any such saloon or place of business where spiritous, vinous, malt or intoxicating liquors are sold, offered for sale, given away, or in any manner disposed of, is conducted or carried on. Provided that this section shall not apply where a room or building at least twenty-five feet in width with solid, upright, perpendicular walls, with no doors nor openings of any kind therein, separates said room or building where any of said games or business mentioned in section 1 of this ordinance is conducted or carried on from said saloon or place where spiritous, vinous, malt or intoxicating liquors are sold, bartered, offered for sale, given away, or in any manner disposed of.

Section 3. Any and every person who shall violate this ordinance or any provision thereof, shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than two hundred and fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the city jail not less than three months nor more than six months; or by both such fine and imprisonment. Each and every violation of this ordinance or any provision thereof, and each and every day upon which a violation of this ordinance or any provision thereof shall be committed, shall constitute a separate offense and be punishable as above provided.

Section 4. Any and all licenses hereafter granted by the city council of the city of Reno for the dealing, playing, carrying on or conducting any of the games or business mentioned in section 1 of this ordinance, shall be issued by the said council and be accepted by the applicant therefor upon the express condition that a violation of the foregoing ordinance, or any provision thereof, or any statute of the state, or any ordinance of the city of Reno regulating the business of gaming, shall work a forfeiture of said license, and the city council shall, upon satisfactory evidence of such violation, have the power, and it shall be their duty to declare such license revoked, and such condition shall be incorporated in the license when granted. Upon complaint made to the Mayor that any person, company or firm has violated any of the provisions of this ordinance, or any statute of the state regulating or restricting gaming, he shall forthwith summon such person, company or firm to appear before the city council at a given time, not less than three days notice being given, to show cause why such license should not be revoked.

This ordinance is intended to supercede all the general laws of the state with respect to their operation within the city of Reno so far as the regulating of gambling games is concerned.

HERE IS ONE OF THE GOOD THINGS we are now offering.

The KAWICH GOLD FLAT MINING CO.

HAS just placed fifty thousand shares of its stock on the market under circumstances, and at a price which makes it the BEST BUY OF THE YEAR. The property of the KAWICH GOLD FLAT MINING CO. Situated in the heart of the rich Kawich district, consists of five claims, approximating ONE HUNDRED ACRES OF THE RICHEST GROUND IN THE DISTRICT. The claims, ROUSE, MALLROY, EL CAPITAN, QUICKSTEP and FRASER were located last January when the strike of the Kawich Gold Mining Co. electrified the state. The ledge discovered at that time surpassed in richness anything thus far uncovered in the richest of all countries, and the FREE GOLD may be plainly seen in the quartz at a distance of many feet. The ground of the KAWICH GOLD FLAT MINING CO. adjoins the original location, and is in DIRECT LINE WITH THE LEDGE. Enough work has already been done to prove the value of the ground, and it only remains to take out the wealth practically in sight.

THE KAWICH GOLD FLAT MINING CO. incorporated last month under the laws of Arizona, and now offers fifty thousand shares of its stock at the low price of TWENTY CENTS. This offer will apply to only the first fifty thousand shares, WHICH GIVES YOU THE CHANCE OF A LIFETIME.

REAL PRINCESS AT THE GRAND

Novel Attraction Being Furnished by Manager Cliff for Reno Theater Goers

The bill at the Grand Theater is exceptionally good this week.

A continuation of the "Courtship of Jonathan" is produced. It depicts the return of Jonathan from the war and is very amusing.

The moving pictures are the best that have been exhibited here in some time, the pursuit of the supposed abductor of the lost child being extremely laughable.

Vardaman, the female impersonator, is retained from last week and continues to confuse the audience.

The best of the evening's entertainment is the cowboy juggler and his beautiful Cheyenne Indian bride. He is one of the cleverest jugglers that has performed here this year and a specialty in that line that is entirely new. His wife, who is a Cheyenne princess, sings in a very sweet and pleasing voice a Cheyenne love song which has has translated into English. The chorus of the song is rendered in the Indian tongue. The pair received three encores last night which were certainly well merited.

The program is closed with a very amusing character sketch.

Dutch Lunch

Mrs. F. E. French gave a May day Dutch lunch to a select company of her friends last night in her suite of rooms in the Thoma-Bigelow building.

It was also said to be the twenty-fifth anniversary of her birth. Covers were laid for ten and a delicious lunch was enjoyed by the genial hostess and her guests. The game of five hundred was played as a prelude to the "main event," resulting in Dr. Robison securing the first prize and Mr. Kidder of San Francisco taking to the Bay City a fine booby as a Reno relic.

Those present were Misses Lillian Shirley and Georgiana Carroll, Mesdames A. W. Quinn, James Leopold, and Messrs. James Leopold, Herbert Kidder, Dr. Herbert Hall, Dr. C. E. Rhodes, Dr. J. L. Robinson, and the hostess.

Chuckawalla From Bullfrog

A. A. Hibbard has placed a live chuckawalla on display in the window of the Nevada Mining Exchange. It closely resembles a gila monster, though it is not so venorous. The reptile is from the Bullfrog country. Mr. Hibbard states that the big rush for the new country is now on and prophesies that Bullfrog is to become one of the greatest camps in Nevada.

He May Be the Man

A young fellow by the name of George Kelly is held by the police, suspected of being the one who got away with the coat and vest belonging to the express office clerk at the depot last Thursday. He is said to deny any knowledge of it, but circumstances appear very suspicious about him, as he sold such apparel to a second hand store.
